

October 14, 2009

To Our Valued Clients in the Real Estate Community:

Trinity Title of Texas, LLC regrets that we are unable to publish a schedule of weekly property tours. The Texas Department of Insurance considers publication of this information to be a business expense of Producers (including real estate brokers and agents, lenders, mortgage companies and brokers, builders, developers, attorneys and architects) that Trinity Title of Texas, LLC is prohibited by Texas law to pay, contribute, share in the cost of or finance. Additionally, Trinity Title of Texas, LLC is prohibited by Texas law from jointly, with a Producer, advertising real property that it does not won for sale or lease.

Furthermore, the Texas Department of Insurance takes the position that an individual or entity (including real estate brokers and agents, lenders, mortgage companies and brokers, builders, developers, attorneys and architects) who receive a thing of value, such as a schedule of weekly property tours published by Trinity Title of Texas, LLC, is subject to monetary penalties for engaging in the unauthorized business of insurance.

We appreciate your business and should you need further clarification, please do not hesitate to contact myself or your local Trinity Title of Texas, LLC Sales Representative.

Thank you and we appreciate you and your support for our future growth and success~!

Respectfully,

Lori Naylor
President
Trinity Title of Texas, LLC